

SIMPLICITY MARKS SETH LOW FUNERAL

State, City and Civic Society Officials Attend Services in St. George's Church.

BISHOP READS RITUAL. A corporation with an equipment such as we have thrives on its facilities for assuming the troubles and responsibilities of others.

Attended by officials of the State and city administrations, representatives of many civic and educational organizations and scores of others high in public life, funeral services for Seth Low, formerly Mayor of New York city, were held yesterday in St. George's Episcopal Church, Stuyvesant Square, where Mr. Low had been a communicant and vestryman twenty-three years.

Many Reservations Made. It was necessary to have admission to the church by card, so many were the applications for reservation by organizations with which Mr. Low had been identified.

Among the organizations and institutions represented were the Chamber of Commerce, the trustees and faculty of Columbia University, of which Mr. Low was president for eleven years; the trustees of Barnard College, the American Science and Historic Preservation Society, the Board of Education, the Volunteers of America and others.

The vestry was represented in the funeral procession by J. P. Morgan, Dr. James W. Markoe, H. H. Pike, Henry W. Murray, Charles S. Brown and William Edmond Curtis. They were followed by the honorary pallbearers, Mayor Mitchell, John H. Finley, Oscar B. Straus, E. H. Outerbridge, Elliott Root, E. Easley, Cleveland H. B. Brown, William G. Wilcox, H. Fulton Cutting, Prof. William M. Sloane, Robert W. DeForest and Frank Trumbull.

Earlier services were held yesterday at Bedford Hills, where Mr. Low died. A special train brought the body to New York.

Sea of Great Baptist Missionary Succumb—in Civil War. Adoniram Brown Judson, M. D., son of the Rev. Adoniram Judson, the founder of the first American Baptist missionary society, died at the Hotel Union, 53 Washington Square, yesterday afternoon of dropsical trouble. He was 79 years old.

Jeremiah J. Beardon.

Dr. A. B. Judson was graduated from the Harvard Medical School in 1854 and later from the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia. He was a member of the staff of the New York Hospital. He also wrote several works on medical subjects.

John J. Finnegan.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 20.—John J. Finnegan, a New York newspaper man who came to Denver that May for his health, died in the Denver hospital. He was a member of U. S. Grant Post, G. A. R., and the Fifth Regiment Veterans Association. A daughter and three sons survive him.

WHICH IS BETTER? IN choosing an executor individual whose life is an uncertainty your own or a corporation with which time has no effect save to strengthen and perpetuate it?

Most individuals have troubles of their own without assuming yours. A corporation with an equipment such as we have thrives on its facilities for assuming the troubles and responsibilities of others.

ARRESTS HUSBAND TO INSURE ALIMONY

Mrs. James Oliver Stewart Uses Affidavit of Sister Wed to Stewart's Partner.

Mrs. Florence M. Stewart, wife of James Oliver Stewart of Stewart & Co., 20 Broad street and 120 Broadway, procured yesterday in the County Clerk's office a civil order of arrest for her husband, giving as grounds an affidavit made by Mrs. Wilhelmina Howard last September 15 in a separation suit against her husband, Phoebe Howard.

MAY IRWIN AS A LANDLADY.

Doesn't Want More Than Two Waists Displayed in Window. "Not more than two waists in the window at one time," is the dictum of Mrs. May Irwin, landlady of the Broadway Hotel, to tenants of her property. The actress yesterday applied to the Supreme Court for an injunction restraining Miss Hockman, a dealer in women's wear at 154 West 47th street, from exceeding that limit.

Now Mrs. Irwin, as lawyer for the other side, has filed a motion for summary judgment, inserting the two waists clause in the lease, but that the defendant has violated the agreement. The reason for the suit is that Miss Hockman, in violation of the agreement, has placed in her window a store in the same building.

ANTI-RETURN GOODS LAW IS ADVOCATED

Regulation of the Retail Store Evil Urged to Protect Public Health.

Legislation and combination to fight the return goods evil, one of the gravest problems of the retail store, were advocated by some of the most effective regulators of this difficulty by secured. Legislation would be the most effective method of dealing with the evil, which has increased the public health.

"One store alone can accomplish little," he said. "Only through cooperation can legislation or some other effective regulation of this difficulty be secured. Legislation would be the most effective method of dealing with the evil, which has increased the public health.
